FEATURED PRODUCTS

CONNOCK® ROMAN CHAMOMILE OIL ENGLISH

The highly-prized essential oil of Anthemis nobilis, widely used in perfumery applications and a popular ingredient in baby products, serums, toners, balms and creams. This attractive pale blue oil imparts a delightful fragrance with depth, warmth and freshness, which provides calming and soothing characteristics, thus promoting relaxation, sleep and wellbeing. Our Roman Chamomile is grown and distilled locally to our headquarters in the South of England.

fcoinsil™ SILICONE ALTERNATIVES

Our new range of vegetable-derived substitutes, designed for formulators wishing to avoid the use of silicone compounds whilst seeking to retain their sensory and performance attributes:

- GEL (LV-1) A broadly compatible oil thickener with suspension capacity for particulates.
- GEL (MV-1) As above but with a lighter residual skin feel.
- HV-1 A direct substitute for D5 (cyclopentasiloxane).
- HV-2 Another alternative to D5 and also isododecane.
- LV-1 Our most popular and versatile silicone alternative. An excellent substitute for lower volatility silicones (e.g. dimethicone) but also with sensory properties similar to D5.
- LV-2 Another dimethicone alternative, derived from jojoba (Simmondsia chinensis).
- MV-1 A medium volatility silicone substitute with a lower viscosity than the LV-1.

CONNOCK® OLIVE SQUALANE

The hydrogenated squalene, derived from the olive (Olea europaea). This well-established emollient enjoys enduring popularity owing to its excellent sensory properties and stability. A clear, colourless oily liquid, it performs as an outstanding moisturizer for the skin and a silky, non-greasy film-former for haircare formulae.

CONNOCK® NIACINAMIDE

Also known as nicotinamide and a form of Vitamin B3, this ingredient is popular in both skincare and haircare applications. In the former it promotes improved moisturization, supporting the skin's natural barrier activity and helping to enhance maturing skin through the stimulation of collagen, whilst also providing an anti-inflammatory function which can help reduce the severity of acne. In the latter the amide is widely included in follicle growth stimulation formulations.
